November 11-12, 2021, Elite Hotel Carolina Tower, Stockholm + online webinar

Janssen Academy is a medical meeting with a program developed by an independent scientific committee comprising clinical experts spanning over dermatology, gastroenterology and rheumatology. This two-day meeting will cover the latest advances within dermatology, gastroenterology and rheumatology, including state-of-the-art lectures of the underlying immunopathologies, latest treatment options and experience exchange across medical specialties. During the meeting there will be cross-therapeutic area sessions to discuss clinically relevant topics such as current treatment practices and complex patient cases. The meeting is intended for physicians and nurses working with autoimmune and/or chronic systemic inflammatory diseases. To be as valuable as possible for your daily practice this meeting includes both interactive and theoretical sessions. We hope they will benefit you.
